

BAOUSS PRO LEAGUE

2026 - 2027 SEASON • 6TH YEAR RUNNING

Complete League Guide

Welcome to Baouss Pro League. This is your one-stop guide: how to join, what the live dashboard shows, and every prize you're competing for this season, explained in full.

THE LIVE DASHBOARD

Every standing, fixture, and prize leaderboard updates automatically here.

baouss-pro-league.vercel.app

What you'll find there:

- Classic — live standings, this gameweek's fixtures and scores, the real Premier League table, and who's currently leading
- H2H Cups — your Head-to-Head group standings and, once the group stage ends, the Gold/Silver knockout bracket
- LMS — who's still alive in Last Manager Standing and who's been eliminated
- Prizes — every prize below, with live leaderboards and a tap-to-read rule for each one
- Set Rules — the tie-break order and this season's exact month-to-gameweek calendar

HOW TO JOIN / REGISTRATION

To lock in your team for the season, transfer the registration fee via UPI (for managers in India) or PayPal (for managers abroad):

	India (UPI/NEFT)	International (PayPal)
Amount	INR 2500/-	US$35.00
Pay to	Siddhant (+91 8860570665) or Shiv (+91 9811683700)	Siddhant

Once payment is made, share a screenshot with your Manager Name, Mobile Number, and FPL Team ID so you can be added to the league.

CLASSIC LEAGUE

Managers who have the highest overall score (including hits for extra transfers) at the end of the season will be declared as the winners. The top 8 places get paid.

Note: In case of a tie for total points, "Set Rules" apply.

LAST MANAGER STANDING LEAGUE AND LMS REBUY

The manager who survives till the last Gameweek of LMS will be declared as the winner.

Each GW, scores are reset to 0 and the worst performing team for that week (in terms of points scored, including hits) is eliminated. Managers compete against one another and the aim is to NOT be the lowest scoring team in that particular GW. As we progress, the teams remaining in the LMS league will keep reducing till only one remains.

LMS starts from GW 2.

Whoever gets eliminated on or before GW 21 (included) will have an option to buy back into the LMS for a fee of INR 500. There will be a break in GW 22, 23 and 24, and all those who buy back will be added back to the LMS. From GW 25, LMS will again resume with the buy-back set of players plus the players who were still remaining after GW 21 ended. These players then continue to fight for the final spot.

All the extra money collected from the Re-buy registrations will be infused back into the LMS prize pool after taking out administration charges.

Note: In case of a tie for total points scored that GW, "Set Rules" apply and the loser of the tie gets eliminated that week.

HEAD-TO-HEAD LEAGUE

A UCL-style format where all the teams are added to a single H2H league (random order as per the official FPL app). You play 29 other random managers. The H2H runs till GW 30, after which we check the top 32 positions.

- Rank 1 to Rank 16 qualify for the Gold Cup
- Rank 17 to Rank 32 qualify for the Silver Cup

Then we have direct single-leg knockouts with random fixtures:

Note: In case of a tie for total points, "Set Rules" apply.

Gameweek	Stage
GW 31	Break
GW 32	Round of 16
GW 33	Break
GW 34	Quarter-Finals
GW 35	Break
GW 36	Semi-Finals
GW 37	Break
GW 38	Finals (Gold + Silver)

TEAM VALUE

The manager who has the highest team value at the end of the season will be declared the winner. Team value increases when you play lesser-selected players who start performing well and their price increases.

This prize rewards the long-term vision of the managers in the transfers made to increase their team value over the entire season.

Note: In case of a tie for highest team value, "Set Rules" apply.

CAPTAIN POINTS

The manager whose sum total of captain points each week, across the entire season, is highest in the league will be declared the winner.

Triple Captain points will also be included in the score calculation. This prize rewards the manager who has consistently made the correct captain picks all season long.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

MEGA GW

The manager who gets the highest Gameweek score in a particular (pre-decided) gameweek will be declared the winner. There will be numerous such GWs, announced at least one GW prior so managers can plan their transfer strategy.

Managers can choose their own strategy to win the Mega GWs, and the use of chips and Wildcard is ALLOWED. Hits and chips will be included in your net score for a Mega GW.

Any manager can win it despite their current position and rank in the league.

Note: In case of any tie for the Mega GW, "Set Rules" apply — except this skips straight to Bench Points, since season-long Total Points is not meaningful for a single-gameweek prize.

CHIP PRIZES: WILDCARD, TRIPLE CAPTAIN, BENCH BOOST, FREE HIT

The manager who scores the highest points in the Gameweek when the relevant chip has been activated wins that chip's prize.

Note: 2026/27 update: every manager receives two full sets of chips this season — one usable before the GW19 deadline, one after. Each chip prize takes the BETTER of your two activations, not a separate prize per half.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

COMEBACK KING / QUEEN

The manager whose team jumps UP the most places in league ranking during the 2nd half of the season will be declared the winner.

Mini-league standings as of the end of Gameweek 19 are compared to standings at the end of Gameweek 38 to see which manager has positively jumped up the most number of places.

The catch: your team needs to finish in the top half of the Classic League table at the end of the season to be eligible.

Note: 2026/27 clarification: only managers who actually moved up are eligible. If a manager's rank stayed the same or dropped, they are not in contention for that period.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

LEAST TRANSFER COST (TOP HALF)

Manager who takes the least number of extra transfers (-4 point hits) across the entire season will be declared the winner.

The catch: your team needs to finish in the top half of the Classic League table at the end of the season to be eligible.

For a total of n teams in the league, top half = top $(n/2)$ teams if n is even, else top $(n+1)/2$ teams.

— Example: in 18 teams, top 9 are eligible

— Example: in 19 teams, top 10 are eligible

This prize rewards the manager who plans their season well, is most judicious with transfers, and still finishes in the top half of the table.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

BENCH POINTS

The manager with the most points left on the bench, summed across the entire season from GW1 to GW38, will be declared the winner. Bench points are calculated at the end of each Gameweek, after all auto-substitutions are completed.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

FIRST TO 1499 POINTS

First manager to reach 1499 overall points during the season, calculated live on the dashboard as the season progresses.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

WILDCARD VISION (5 GWS)

This rewards the manager with a future vision when choosing players on their Wildcard. The manager who scores the most points in the Wildcard-activated GW and the following 4 gameweeks wins. Hits and other chips used during those 4 gameweeks are considered.

Example: if a Wildcard is activated in GW4, total points across GW4-8 are considered.

Note: 2026/27 clarification: with two Wildcards this season, this prize takes the better of your two 5-GW windows. If a Wildcard is played too late in the season for the full 5 GWs to complete, that window still competes as 'in progress' rather than being excluded.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

MOST POINTS FROM DEF + GK

The manager whose team scores the most points from their Defenders + Goalkeepers, bench players included.

Note: 2026/27 clarification: if a Defender or Goalkeeper is your captain, their doubled points count toward this total the same way they count toward your overall score.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

HIGHEST RANK JUMP (OVER A MONTH)

The manager whose team jumps UP the most places in Classic League ranking during each FPL calendar month will be declared the winner for that month.

Note: 2026/27 clarification: only managers who actually moved up are eligible. If nobody in the league improved their rank in a given month, there is no winner for that month.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

MANAGER OF THE MONTH (MOTM)

Manager of the Month is whoever gets the highest overall points (including all hits for extra transfers and chips used) for a particular calendar month.

A Gameweek is considered part of the month in which it begins. The dashboard's Set Rules page is the live reference for which GW falls under which month.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" for that month's time period apply.

PERFECT CAPTAINCY — NEW FOR 2026/27

This is a brand-new prize this season, rewarding accuracy over raw totals: the manager who most often names the captain who actually turns out to be their own starting XI's top scorer that gameweek.

For each gameweek, we compare your captain's raw points (before the captaincy multiplier) against every other player in your starting XI (not the bench). If your captain's score is the highest of the eleven, or tied for highest, that gameweek counts as a correct call.

The winner is whoever has the most correct calls, tracked across the gameweeks the league has checked. A manager who captains a nailed-on premium every week and is right most weeks will beat a manager who occasionally hits a huge differential captain but is wrong more often — this prize is about reading the week correctly, not about total captain points (that's a separate prize).

Note: Bench players are not considered — only your starting XI is compared against your captain, since bench points weren't in your control that gameweek regardless of the captain call.

Note: In case of a tie, "Set Rules" apply.

SET RULES — TIE-BREAK ORDER

In case of a tie, the below order is used to determine the one single winner:

#	Tie-break criterion
1	Total points (Overall Points) — except for Mega GW calculations
2	Bench Points
3	Captain Points
4	Coin Toss

Note: These all apply relative to whatever window the specific prize is being calculated over — a single gameweek, a calendar month, or the full season.
